What Is Unified Leadership?

Unified Leadership is an approach being pioneered by Special Olympics that empowers leaders with and without disabilities to take on new challenges and roles. It focuses on creating the best possible environment for everyone to succeed as leaders.

- Unified leadership values each individual for their unique gifts, challenges stereotypes and celebrates difference. Unified leaders change unjust systems and create environments that welcome and include all in a meaningful way

Why Is Unified Leadership Development Important?

Leading without bias and creating an empowering environment where everyone can thrive is no easy task. Equipping leaders with effective leadership skills and advanced inclusive leadership tools is very important for any forward-looking organization.
